

FUEL CONTAINER FOR ENGINE BICYCLES

ABSTRACT

A fuel container for engine bicycles is formed by a selected section of 5 a hollow frame of the engine bicycle. The fuel container has an inlet at the top end and an outlet at the bottom end thereof. The outlet is connected to a fuel line and has a drain port for discharging fuel.